This volume provides a unique view of the emerging Confucian vision for China and the world in the 21st century. Unlike the Neo-Confucians sojourning in North America who recast Confucianism in terms of modern Western values, this new generation of Chinese scholars takes the authentic roots of Confucian thought seriously.

Abstract. Mou Zongsan contends that Confucianism is an ethics of autonomy. It is maintained that Mou's version of ethics of autonomy differs from Kant's in that Mou comprehends subjectivity differently than Kant in such a way that he, unlike Kant, locates the ethical a priori in moral feelings instead of reason. This paper will explore Mou's metaphysical grounding of morality ...
